Good Morning, CSP Students and Families,

I hope you are all doing well in preparation for tomorrow's return to remote learning.

The University sent out a very important message from the Office of the Provost that I wanted to make sure the information was relayed to all of you:

<https://nbprovost.rutgers.edu/new-academic-policies-resources-remote-learning>

- Students are now able to withdraw from a class with a W until April 10th
- Students have the option to change one or more of their courses from a letter grade to Pass/No Credit grading. This is not to be taken lightly and all students should consult with their coordinator and academic advisor before making this change. The full policy is linked below, and additional information is forthcoming:
  - <https://nbprovost.rutgers.edu/grade-change-academic-deadlines>

I look forward to continued contact throughout the semester, and if there is anything I can do to help or support, please let me know. If you have questions about this new information, do not hesitate to reach out.

The updated CSP management plan is attached with new technology resources for students on page 4 (<https://coronavirus.rutgers.edu/technology-resources-for-students/>)

Stay safe, healthy, and optimistic!

Courtney
