Subject: DDDC Road to Reopening Update- 7/24/20

To our DDDC School Program Families,

We hope you and your family are well during this stressful time. As you are aware, the DDDC has had to delay its opening as a result of lack of sufficient protective gear for our staff. We are continuing to work closely with units at the university to secure the necessary equipment. Below is an update on our progress towards re-opening.

The Road to Reopening the DDDC

We are very aware of the strain that these past four months have had on your children and your families. We are doing all we can to secure the supplies we will need to begin a hybrid instructional model in September. We will continue to prioritize the safety of your children and family as well as the safety of our staff and their families. In the mean time, please continue to ask for the support you need from your child's teaching team.

Stay well...stay safe.
